Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival in Heidelberg

Heidelberg is considered one of Germany's most beautiful towns. The harmonious flair of Neckar, historic quarter and castle in the midst of vineyards has fascinated artists and poets of the Romantic and will surely enchant you, too. Heidelberg Castle and its beautiful gardens are worth a visit.

Day 2: Heidelberg – Bretten, approx. 60 km

From Heidelberg, you cycle through the Kurpfalz region before climbing some of the thousand hills of the Kraichgau. You will pass picturesque orchard meadows, sun-drenched vineyards and refreshing bathing lakes. The first overnight stop on your cycle tour is the half-timbered town of Bretten.

Day 3: Bretten – Bad Wildbad, approx. 45 km

Today your way through the Ländle leads you first to Pforzheim. The centre of the German jewellery and watch industry is your gateway to the Black Forest. You cycle along the Enz River against the direction of flow. Via Höfen and Calmbach you reach Bad Wildbad - today's destination.

Day 4: Bad Wildbad – Freudenstadt, approx. 50 km + cable car

At the beginning of the day, you board the Sommerbergbahn and ride up to the high plateau of the Sommerberg. Here it is worth taking a walk on the tree-top walkway with the Wildline suspension bridge arching upward. It offers fantastic views of the surrounding hills and valleys of the northern Black Forest. You then cycle along the Black Forest Panorama Cycle Path to Freudenstadt.

Day 5: Freudenstadt – Hechingen, approx. 60 km

Your cycle tour takes you further across Baden-Württemberg. You leave the Black Forest and cross the Neckar. Then you head up into the Swabian Alb. Shortly before your destination today, Hechingen, you will pass a Roman estate. The site is now an open-air museum. The town's landmark, visible from afar, bears witness to another era – Hohenzollern Castle.

Day 6: Hechingen – Tuttlingen, approx. 65 km

On the fifth stage, you will experience the unique natural and cultural landscape of the Swabian Alb from your bike. You cycle from Hechingen via Balingen and Gosheim. Ascents alternate with the high plateaus that are characteristic of the Alb. In Schömburg, a reservoir offers you the opportunity to refresh yourself. Afterwards, you cycle down into the Danube valley to Tuttlingen.

Day 7: Tuttlingen – Sigmaringen, approx. 55 km

Today you follow the Danube through the Upper Danube Nature Park. At Beuron you cycle through the spectacular Danube breakthrough. A visit to the Archabbey of Beuron with its almost thousand-year history is worthwhile. Framed by the Danube and towering limestone cliffs, you cycle on to Sigmaringen. Sigmaringen's townscape is dominated by the imposing Hohenzollern Castle.

Day 8: Sigmaringen – Ludwigshafen / Überlingen, approx. 50 / 60 km

Shortly after Sigmaringen you reach Inzigkofen. The 25-hectare Fürstlicher Park (Princely Park) on both sides of the Danube is worth seeing, a wildly romantic landscape garden with historical garden architecture. Via Meßkirch you approach Lake Constance, the last of the many highlights of your cycle tour across Baden-Württemberg. In Ludwigshafen you have made it, you have reached Lake Constance.

Day 9: Überlingen – Constance, approx. 20 / 30 km + ferry ride

On the Lake Constance Cycle Path you cycle from Überlingen towards Meersburg. You cycle past the baroque pilgrimage church of Birnau and the pile dwellings near Uhdingen. In Meersburg, it's worth taking a stroll through the picturesque old town. Take the car ferry to Constance. The largest and probably most beautiful city on Lake Constance is the end point of your journey. The final stage is the shortest of the entire cycle tour, giving you enough time to explore the Council City.

Day 10: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
