Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival in Weimar

Weimar is the city of poets and thinkers. Names such as Goethe, Schiller and Friedrich Liszt, as well as great female personalities such as Duchess Anna Amalia, still characterize the city of culture today. The city palace, a magnificent princely residence, and the state Bauhaus from 1919 are further landmarks of the city. You can experience opera, drama and dance up close at the Deutsches Nationaltheater.

Day 2: Weimar – Jena, approx. 25 km

Today's stage is deliberately kept short, as Weimar and Jena offer numerous sights. We recommend a stroll through Weimar's garden landscape to Goethe's garden house before continuing along the Ilm Cycle Path and Thuringian Chain of Towns towards the Saale. Highlights of the university and optics city of Jena are the views over the city from the JenTower glass skyscraper or into the stars from the Zeiss Planetarium.

Day 3: Jena – Naumburg, approx. 55 km

The famous three Dornburg castles are the first destination on this stage. High above the Saale canyon, on the edge of the cliffs, the Old Castle, the Rococo Castle and the Renaissance Castle are enthroned in a theatrical setting. Passing Rudelsburg Castle standing on high cliffs and the two towers of Saaleck Castle, the route continues along the Saale through Mediterranean-looking wine terraces to Naumburg.

Day 4: Excursion to Nebra, approx. 40 km + train ride

Take the train to Nebra - made world-famous by the discovery of the Nebra Sky Disk. Its significance is explained at the Arche multimedia center. You then cycle along the Unstrut cycle path to the Rotkäppchen sparkling wine cellars and through the Blütengrund back to Naumburg. If you don't want to cycle after the sparkling wine tasting, simply take the MS Fröhliche Dörte from Freyburg back to Naumburg on the Unstrut and Saale rivers (not included).

Day 5: Naumburg – Weimar, approx. 65 km

At the beginning you cycle upstream in the direction of Bad Kösen with its famous graduation house. From Kleinheringen you follow the Ilm past the bell city of Apolda and finally you return to the city of poets and thinkers: to Weimar.

Day 6: Excursion to Erfurt, approx. 50 / 60 km

On your last stage you will drive along the Thuringian city chain to Erfurt. Stroll through Erfurt's alleys to the fish market and the famous Krämerbrücke. Discover the Erfurt Cathedral, which has the Gloriosa, the largest free-swinging bell in the world, before cycling back to Weimar. Alternatively, the trip back is possible by train incl. bike (not included).

Day 7: Individual departure

After breakfast you start your individual return journey home or extend your stay.
