Your tour

Eerstmal en Koppke Tee, Low German for: First of all a cup of tea. This is certainly a cosy way to spend your cycling holiday in East Frisia. With a cup of genuine Frisian tea in your hand, you can enjoy the wonderfully clear air of the North Sea and the views of the offshore islands. For eight days, you will immerse yourself in the East Frisian landscape characterised by moors and the sea. Look forward to the finest sandy beaches, lighthouses, the Lower Saxony Wadden Sea National Park, ship-in-bottle museums, crab cutters and seals. You'll ride, hopefully with a tailwind, across the flat land, along dead-straight canals, through picturesque coastal regions with romantic harbours and endless dikes. Experience wonderful days by the sea!

Stages description

Day 1: Individual arrival to Oldenburg

As the gateway to East Frisia, the old royal seat of Oldenburg is the ideal starting point for the East Frisian beer tour. If you arrive early, you will have enough time to visit the charming old town. In the middle of the town are the magnificent castle and the castle guardhouse, which once marked the boundary to the town's bourgeois areas. Not far away is the Powder Tower, the last remaining building of the former city fortifications. There are numerous stores and restaurants in the city center, so nothing stands in the way of a relaxed evening.

Day 2: Oldenburg – Wiesmoor, approx. 55 km

The first day on the saddle takes you through the beautiful park landscape of Ammerland, famous for its numerous gardens and parks. The rhododendrons are in lush bloom. The first destination is the spa town of Bad Zwischenahn, idyllically situated on the Zwischenahner Meer. The Park der Gärten is located in the Rostrup district. Stroll through the 43 themed gardens and enjoy the view from the 20-metre-high observation tower over the 14-hectare park. You will spend the night in Wiesmoor, the youngest and second smallest town in East Frisia.

Day 3: Wiesmoor – Emden, approx. 55 km

You leave the climatic health resort Wiesmoor and cycle to the secret East Frisian capital Aurich, which has been a residential town for centuries. Visit the highly controversial Sous Tower and the national shrine of the Frisians, the Thingstätte Upstalsboom. Then drive along the Ems-Jade Canal, which has connected the three cities of Emden, Aurich and Wilhelmshaven since 1888, to Emden. The seaport city is the largest city in East Frisia. The old inland harbour with its museum ships extends into the city centre. In addition to the Art gallery and the East Frisian State Museum, fans of Germany's most famous comedian Otto Waalkes are advised to visit Dat Otto Huus.

Day 4: Emden – Norden, approx. 60 km

This tour will take you through the Krummhörn. Typical for this region are the Warfen villages, the many windmills and the lighthouses. Greetsiel remains an important crab-fishing port up until today. You should definitely try prawn peeling yourself. You will then cycle further along the Ley Bay, where, with a bit of luck, you will be able to see seals and then reach the wadden sea.

Day 5: Trip to the island of Norderney

The ferry will take you from Norddeich to Norderney, the youngest island, on which the first sea swimming pool was opened in 1797. The bicycle is the perfect vehicle to explore the beauty of this island before returning to Norden. Alternatively you cycle along the coast and the national park Wattenmeer oder visit the seal-station in Norddeich.

Day 6: Norden – Wittmund / Jever, approx. 50 – 60 km

You follow the course of the coast and soon reach the Norderburg Dornum, the most beautiful moated castle in East Frisia. Then follow the cycle path through wide marshlands to Esens, which calls itself the East Frisian chieftain town or also the bear town. From the 54-metre-high tower of St. Magnus Church you have a fabulous view of the offshore islands of Borkum, Memmert and Juist, weather permitting. The destination of this cycling day is the small town of Wittmund, the town with the red clinker bricks in the heart of East Frisia. Here you will also find the oldest still completely preserved gallery Dutch mill in Germany.

Day 7: Wittmund – Dangast, approx. 40 – 50 km

On the penultimate day of your cycle tour through East Frisia, you get back on your bike after breakfast and cycle to Jever. Everyone is probably familiar with the beer brand that has been brewed here since 1848. On a walk through the town, the castle with its massive keep and 61-metre-high owl tower can be seen from afar. The journey continues to Wilhelmshaven. Founded by King Wilhelm I in 1869, the city is now Germany's largest German Armed Forces and naval base. Stroll along the promenade of the southern beach or visit the very informative German Naval Museum. The stage ends in the North Sea resort of Dangast on the south-western Jade Bay.

Day 8: Dangast – Oldenburg, approx. 50 km and individual departure

You turn your back to the North Sea and cycle south back to Oldenburg. Before that, you should take time to visit the Jaderberg Zoo, where you can see over 600 exotic animals from all over the world. Back in Oldenburg, your cycle tour in East Frisia is over after eight days. However, we are also happy to extend your stay in Oldenburg.
